For Lisa Vinton, education and support was vital for her when she found herself unwed and pregnant at the young age of 21. Instead, she found judgment, condemnation and embarrassment. Lisa instantly became a statistic.

Now, twenty years later, she is the founder and director of Southwest Pregnancy Counseling Center, Inc. where she ensures a loving, compassionate, and safe place for young women & men, and their families to come to for help. Lisa's passion in life is to reach out to those in need without a political or religious agenda, but, rather, with essential information, resources, and support.

A successful business woman and community volunteer, Lisa has developed powerful messages for teens and parents of teens to turn a bad situation into one that is manageable and positive.

Why You Should Care

Scary Stats

Did you know that...

- 1 out of 10 teens will become pregnant each year?
- 3,000 girls become pregnant every day?
- 28% of parents of pregnant teens seek abortions for their daughters?
- 40% of parents of pregnant teens will support their daughter's decision no matter what it is?
- More than 60% of unwed mothers will end up on welfare?
- 9 out of 10 teen fathers will leave their girlfriend within the first year

And, sadly...

- Few schools have information and resources for teens & parents of pregnant teens
- Many doctors offices and social workers are in the dark with how to help these families
- Too many parents of pregnant teens are embarrassed and ashamed

"When I first found out I was pregnant I thought my whole life was going to come crashing down, but with the help of Lisa and the pregnancy center my family and I saw this situation in a whole new light."
